GIVING OUT.

The Struggle Discourages Many Citizen of Maysville.

Around all day with aching back;
Can't rest at night;
Enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give renewed life.
They will cure the backache;
Care every kidney ill.
Here is convincing proof that this is so:
William Davis, Second street, E. Vanceburg, Ky., says:

"In my estimation Doan's Kidney Pills are far the best kidney remedy on the market. My back became so weak and painful that I was obliged to give up my work. Doan's Kidney Pills were at length recommended to me and I procured a box. I am glad to say that they strengthened my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—take no other.

couragements to the bear, and Cousin Orone urging Cleopatra on. The bear stood up and tremulous waves wiggled up and down his back, while Cleopatra hung on and bit eagerly. Cleopatra bit again, and tears stood in the bear's eyes, but he was still game. Cleopatra bit once more and the bear tried to reach her with both fore-paws, and failed. Cleopatra bit again, and the bear tried to crawl under the hotel porch, but was headed off by the Italian gentleman. Cleopatra bit four times in quick succession and grasped the bear with all her legs, shaking him to and fro, and with a growl the bear threw himself on his back, and wiggled. Cleopatra had won!

The entire audience crowded up to congratulate Orone, and he received their kind words with becoming meekness. He said the credit all belonged to Cleopatra, and he called to her to come forward and receive her reward of praise, but she remained modestly in the background. Conternation reigned, for it was feared that Cleopatra might have been lost, but half an hour later Cousin Orone backed up against one of the hotel pillars and began rubbing his back against it vigorously. He then said, for publication, that he was able to announce that Cleopatra was not lost.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the auditorium of the Third Street Methodist Episcopal Church was filled to its utmost seating capacity to pay their last respects to the inanimate body of the late Charles Bridges Pearce, and the large representative gathering was a silent testimonial of the high regard in which the dead Bunker was held by his friends and neighbors. The services throughout were of a sweetly, solemn character, and the sermon of Rev. F. W. Harrop was of a particularly high order. The floral offerings were many, very beautiful and elaborate. The body was followed to its last resting place by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

The funeral of the late Bert H. Pollitt took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Thomas M. Russell, in East Third street, with services conducted by Rev. Roger L. Clark of the Christian Church and Rev. B. F. Chatham of the First M. E. Church, South. The large number present attested in a manner the esteem which the deceased was held by all who knew him. Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

THE citizens of Lexington have just elected two women, Miss LINDA NEVILLE and Miss MARGARET BROWN, to the Board of Education.

These two women were candidates on the Fusion ticket. Their opponents on the regular Democratic ticket were two prominent educators of the city of Lexington, Prof. M. L. PENCE of the State University and Prof. T. B. McCARTNEY of Transylvania University.

This indicates somewhat the strength of the desire for women on the Board of Education in Lexington. These women, it will be recollect, were elected by the votes of men, no women in Lexington being allowed the school ballot. They were nominated by men, without any solicitation either from them or from other women, as a measure of party wisdom as well as of principle.

As it happens, a strong effort was made by more than one of the masculine leaders in the Democratic party to have women nominated on that ticket. This was overruled by a small coterie of Democrats opposed to any recognition of women's services. Lexington is the city represented by the Hon. WILLIAM KLAIR, who has in two Legislatures opposed the extension of school suffrage to Kentucky women.

It has been represented that the trial of school suffrage for women in Lexington some years back proved a failure. A flat contradiction of this statement of the politicians did not destroy its currency, though this contradiction was made by those who knew that Lexington was still profiting from the reforms instituted by women on the School Board; who could point to the State-wide reputation of some of the women who then gave their services free to their city; who knew that the suffrage was repealed without a demand from the people, practically without their knowledge, at the best of a few politicians only.

Does it look as if the people of Lexington had found school suffrage for women a failure, or women on their School Boards a failure, when over the dead bodies, as it were, of those Democratic politicians who opposed the recognition of women in school affairs, they nominate and elect women—who did not seek the offices—to serve upon the School Board? Let the people of the State judge.

The Editor of The Lexington Herald, in an editorial of November 10th entitled "The Local Election," has the following to say on the subject:

"The Democrats made a grievous mistake—and as we believed and so stated at the time it was made, a possibly fatal error—in refusing to nominate women for the Board of Education. They had the opportunity to win to their support the influence of the women of Lexington. They not only did not avail themselves of that opportunity, but permitted their opponents to get the advantage which should have been theirs. The same short-sighted, narrow and unwise policy which led to the repeal of the law giving women the right to vote, and to the defeat of the bill giving to women the right of school suffrage, prevented the Democrats from nominating women for the Board of Education. There could be no more severe rebuke of such policy than the election of the ticket on which two women were nominees in an election in which women had no vote.

"The Democratic party certainly, and probably the schools also, are to be congratulated upon the election of the Republican ticket. It is well for the Democratic party to be relieved of the odium of the charge of using the schools as a political asset. There has been only a modicum of truth in this charge. Yet there has been sufficient truth to create a profound prejudice against the Democratic party which has done infinite damage and probably hurt the schools. Politics has no place in the Board of Education nor in the public schools; the Democratic managers would have shown much greater wisdom had they recognized this overwhelming public sentiment and agreed to the nomination of a non-partisan Board of Education upon which there would be two Democrats, and two Republicans, and two women.

"MRS. DESHA BRECKINRIDGE."

HE KNEW HER.

Her Finance—I've called to ask for your daughter's hand in marriage.

Her Father—Has she accepted you?

Her Finance—Yes, sir.

Her Father—Then why do you come and worry me with your troubles?

The weather: Fair and colder today and tomorrow; light snow.

The Governors' Conference

The Governors' third annual Conference convened in Kentucky's new $2,000,000 Capitol at Frankfort yesterday afternoon, with Governor Wilson as host and Chairman, and Governors from twenty-four States were present in person, many with their wives. Governor Wilson's address of welcome was able, characteristic, eloquent, and the distinguished visitors were welcomed and entertained with boundless hospitality. The notable address of the Conference was the speech of Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson on "The Self-Government of the States." Wilson's speech was shrewdly veiled, but was a direct attack upon Roosevelt and the Republican party. Politics may disrupt the Conference. All the sessions, including today, will take place in Louisville.
